Programme Slash Proposed

Washington, June 3.—A 26.7 percent slash in the American multibillion dollar foreign aid programme was voted today by the House Appropriations Committee. The group recommended US$5,980,710,288 dollars for global aid. This is US$553,-000,000 under the ceiling fixed earlier by Congress.

The European Recovery Programme was hardest hit: Ald for China, occupied areas such as Japan and Korea, and Greece and Turkey ald were also trimmed. Chinese aid was trimmed from US$403,000,000 to US$400,000,000. Government and relief in occupied Berlin, June 3.—Dr Harry Lee Franklin, American Military Government Political expert tonight described his 16hour detention by the Russians "an outrage and perhaps intended as such. I believe the Russians are trying to discourage Americans from entering the Soviet section of Berlin except on strictly necessary official business. At the same time they are trying to discourage Germans of all groups and classes from contact with Americans, British and French from the west." Dr Franklin, mildmannered State Department official was arrested by a Russian Captain and five Soviet soldiers armed with tommyguns at 7.50 on Wednesday night and released shortly before 2 p.m. today. Dr Franklin told the United Press that he had slopped in at a camera shop after a meeting at Berlin Kommandatura, to have his movie camera repaired.

He said: "Only a moment after I had entered the shop, the Russlans drove up in a jeep and said they wanted to check my automobile papers. The Russian captain said my papers were in order but he would have to take me to Soviet Headquarters anyway." At the headquarters, Franklin said that he repeatedly asked for permission to telephone the Military Government and his wife, but ho was refused and given no resson' for the refusal.

SINGER ARRESTED Lauritz Melchior also was arrested yesterday and held for a brief period before being released. There is no confirmation of Melchior's arrest and the American Military Police said they had not received any such report.

Melchior left Berlin this morning by plane for Frankfurt where no is continuing his entertainment tour of Germany.

Dr Franklin said the Russians made no effort to make him comthat they were fortable but "courteous."

Room For Amendment gory described in the Bill. It THE lucid and eminently

A sensible explanation of the Debtor-Creditor Bill given by the acting Financial Secretary in Legislative Council on Wednesday robs critics of the Bill of much of their ammunition. If Government's basic attitude that compromise settlement is to be preferred to legal judgment (which could benefit only one side) is acceptable, the rest of Mr Clarke's declaration practically beyond criticism. The compromise which Government proposes is that all pre-war debts paid for during the Japanese occupation in Hongkong dollars, shall be deemed valid; that where a debt fell due for repayment either before or during the occupation and payment was received or demanded by the creditor himself or his agent, the debt is deemed to be validly discharged whether paid on occupation currency or Hongkong dollars, unless payment in milltary Yen was accepted uncar duress; that where a debt incurred before the occupation in Hongkong currency was repaid to the Japanese liquidator during the occupation in occupation. currency, such repayment shall be regarded as a partial discharge of the debt. Government frankly, admits, this third condition provides the core of the public controversy which has followed the first revelation of the proposed legislation, but here again the Authorities argue soundly on lines of compromise, claiming. with some justification, that it represents a fair and equitable. method of resolving one of the most complicated of our postwar problems. One point is still likely to rankle in the minds of debtors whose terms of settlement come into the third cateis the question of Interest. Relatively speaking the Interest rate as prescribed is reasonable. but the doubt created is whether Interest should be charged at all. That creditors, such as the banks. did not in fact receive repayments on mortgages and other loans as a result of the Japanese liquidation of accounts may, from an equitable view point, give them a fair claim to some reimbursement now, but their right to Interest accrued during the occupation period is not so easily appreciated. The occupation must surely be regarded as bringing to a standstill and a temporary nullity all pre-war transactions between the banks and their debtors. From that angle the occupation period should be regarded as a dead interval: a time lapse carrying no Interest charges. Viewed in the light of compromise, which is the basis of the Debtor-Creditor Ordinance, this would represent a concession on the part of creditors calculated to remove any further opposition to the proposed legislation. It is true that the Bill provides the right of legal appeal against the arbitrary four percent laid down by the Ordinance, but this involves litigation, and gives the Court no power to eliminate Interest charges. Conceding that special legislation based on compromise is preferable to a Court award, the Debtor-Creditor Bill' is equitable so far as repayment of principal is concerned; but equity is somewhat. weighted against the debtors when the Ordinance Insists upon providing for retrospective Interest payments, and there are fairly good grounds for amendment here before the Hill receives , its final reading and assent.

Writer Gives Males Spankings By ROBERT MUSEL

NIEW YORK,—April Taylor, who gave up teaching school to crusade for her sex, has given the male of the species one of the most savage spankings on record.

"All men tell lies to all women," is Miss Taylor's theme. Her entalogue of what is wrong with the opposite sex runs for 185 pages of a newly published book, "Love Is a Four-Letter Word."

There is one grudging chapter in which Miss Taylor admits there may be some good in a very few men. She titles it "A Good Man Is Hard

But for the most part Miss Taylor is swinging without her fine kid gloves. On behalf of the masculine victims of Miss Taylor's attack, I lunched with her to inquire whence sprang all this venom.

Ready to Wed Again

Miss Taylor is a shy, nice-looking brunette who usually hides her shyness behind dark glasses. She has been thrice divorced but hastened to assure me that it had not affected ther viewpoint and she was looking forward to a fourth marriage.

"I still love every one of my husbands dearly and wish them well, wherever they are," she said, sounding as though she meant it. "I wrote the book because I've felt that too many men have for too long gotten too much for too little. When word of the text got around, Miss Taylor's book began to sell in the thousands before publication, presumably to women who wanted ammunition for belabouring husbands or boy friends. They go

"A man in pajamas likes to feel like a god," said Miss Taylor apropos of nothing that had gone before. Then she said that married women "who are lovely, sensitive souls, trying to hold fast to some poetry in this world," usually fall in with that mood by telling their husbands they are wonderful.

They Believe Them

And what does womankind get for this kindhearted co-operation? The married man is usually out looking for a girl friend he can tell my-wife-doesn't - understand - 'me. And the poor girl friend, also clutching flercely at the poetry of the world, believes him.

For such a double betrayal Miss Taylor said she had less than contempt. She wants men to recognise marriage for what it really is-a comfort, a solace, a refuge, an unworldly companionship. And if a man looks at it only as a plot against freedom he's better off single. "Better off dead," amended Miss

With more than a dozen trips abroad to her credit, Miss Taylor, basing her opinion on information and belief, says the American man is the best all-around male.

Italians, she says, are the most cloquent lovers and invincible department on their home grounds. She doesn't think much of the French ("too much arl, not enough heart") and confirms the standard opinion that the Briton would rather play cricket.

> But, says Dr Andrewes regretfully, human beings make unsatisfactory experimental animals. He would much rather employ chimpanzees. They catch beautiful colds. Other animals, including cats, rabbits and hedgehogs develop snuffly noses, but such snuffles have nothing in common with the human cold. However, chimpanzees are very expensive; there are very few to be had; they are very strong and don't take kindly to medical experts. They just don't co-operate to help humanity. Until they develop a more amenable frame of mind, they are uscless for experimental purposes and Dr Andrewes must stick to human beings,

Licences Must Be Endorsed

Official Ruling For Motor Cyclists

Drivers holding licences to drive cars must obtain an endorsement for driving motor cycles, and several licence holders who had failed to have their permits endorsed were cautioned by Mr Latimer at Kowloon to-day and were warned to obtain the necessary endorsement.

The offenders in this respect were Suen Fiu, of 428, Prince Edward Road, Lam Kwon, of 50, Temple Street ground floor, Chan Kwok, 75, Temple Street, ground floor and Llu Ming-fat, of 58, Mongkok Road, second floor. They were all holders of either lorry or car licence.

A fine of $100 was imposed on Chan Foo-sung, of 72, Pak Tal Street, ground floor and Leung Klufal, a factory manager of 156-162 Castle Peak Road. ### AMERICAN WINS BRITISH WOMEN'S AMATEUR

GOLF TITLE FROM JEAN DONALD

Little "Suggsy" Just Makes It Through A Stormy Six Hours

St Anne's on Sea, Lancashire, June 3.—Louise Suggs of Atlanta, Georgia, became the second American to win the British Women's Amateur Golf title today when she beat the rugged Scottish champion, Jean Donald, on the last green of a gruelling 36 hole match played under the worst weather conditions since the championship was instituted on this same course in 1893.

Raging wind and slashing rain whipped the links, keeping the gallery to the smallest number in championship history and virtually duplicating the appalling conditions under which Frank Stranahan won the British Amateur Men's title at Sandwich last week.

An Unusual Play For Vienna Coup

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY of vermicelli?

ONE of the most difficult squeeze U plays to recognise is the Viennn coup. This play, sent to me by born? Oswald J. Ray of New York, is very unusual. Declarer must employ the Vienna coup and then execute a squeeze play on both opponents.

The opening lead of the eight of hearts was won in dummy with the king. The ace of diamonds was cashed, a small diamond led from dummy and the jack finessed, East winning.

If East had returned a spade at this point I believe he could have killed the squeeze play. However he led the four of hearts, which Ray (North) won with the queen.

Now Ray made the Vienna coup play. He returned the small club and went up with dummy's acc, deliberately setting up East's king. Then he ran off the balance of the diamonds, leaving in his own hand the five of spades, ace-seven of hearts and queen of clubs. East at this point was down to the queen-eight-three of spades and king of clubs. Dummy had the ace-king six of spades and ten of clubs.

On the last diamond West had to make a discard from the jackten-seven of spades and jack-ten of hearts. If he let go the ten of hearts, Ray's ace and seven would be good. He discarded the seven of spades, and then Ray cashed the acc of hearts and squeezed East. If East let go the king of clubs, Ray's queen would be good, so he had to discard a small spade. Then the acc-king-six of spades in dummy were good for the last three zricks.

Michael-Anne Wedding

Date Reported Fixed

Lausanne, June 3. — Ex-king Michael will marry Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma in Athens at the end of next week, it was learned here on good authority today.

Princess Anne is expected to join Michael this week in the Lausanne hotel where he has been staying with his mother, Queen Helen, since his abdication.

The Pope three months ago refused a dispensation for Princess Anne, who is a Catholic, to marry Michael, who is a member of the Greek Orthodox Church. All reports indicate that the wedding will now take place according to Greek

Britain And North China Regime

London, June 3.—The British "China Campaign Committee" asked the British government tonight to establish economic and cultural relations with the North China regime,

Such relations, the Committee said in a statement after its annual meeting, "would do much to restore British prestige in the Far East and lessen the threat to world peace by helping a solution of the present conflict and the establishment of a strong independent China."

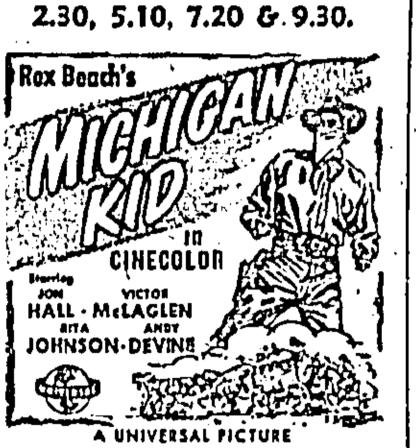

The Committee, headed by the Earl of Listowel and including Professor Harold Laski, former Chairman of the Labour Party Executive, said the majority of Chinese seek to end the war by the establishment of a coalition government, including the Communists, "to carry out Democratic reform and economic reconstruc-

A "positive British Far Eastern policy" is essential to preserve world, peace the Committee said, adding, "the negative character of British policy has led to the view that Britain has recognised China as an American sphere of influence and is not interested in friendly relations with China."-Associated Press.
